Senate Passes Foreign Aid Bill

Party Lines Not Held In Voting; Changes Beaten

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The Senate passed the administration's $3,637,000,000 foreign aid bill tonight by a thumping, bi-partisan margin.

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Party labels vanished today in a welter of Senate votes propelling the administration's $3,637,000,000 foreign aid bill through a storm of amendments.

Democrats who tried to cut and hold the program to one year were routed repeatedly by a rolling combination of Republicans and Democrats led by the two party floor leaders, Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and Knowland (R-Calif.).

Opponents cried "waste" and "extravagance" but many of the bill's supporters apparently preferred to hold their budget-cutting fire for the appropriation measure which must follow later to provide actual funds for the program.

Call Early Session

Johnson and Knowland called the Senate into session 2½ hours early and kept it going in an overtime night session in an effort to reach a final vote on the authorization measure.

Some Republicans joined the Democratic onslaughts led by Sens. Long and Ellender of Louisiana and Morse of Oregon. These reached their crest in a 49-40 vote turning back an effort by Long to slash defense supports from 800 to 710 million dollars.

With the measure's money totals apparently secure against reduction, opponents shifted their attack to the administration's proposed three-year, two-billion-dollar fund for economic development loans.

Morse opened a fight to hold the fund to one year and 500 million dollars, but was snowed under by a roll call vote of 54-32. Morse's amendment would have knocked out authority for the development fund to borrow 750 million dollars additional in each of two succeeding years.

Adopt Amendment

Chairman Green (D-R.I.) said the Morse amendment would have "cut the heart out" of the project.

The Senate adopted by voice vote an amendment of Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) designed to tighten the language in the bill on operations of the new development loan fund.

It provides that loans from the fund "shall be made on the basis of firm commitments" by the recipients to make repayment and "on a finding there is a reasonable prospect of repayment."

Green said this was in accordance with the understanding by the Foreign Relations Committee of the way the new loan fund would be administered, and accepted the amendment. It was the first floor change made in the bill.

Practice Golf Swing Kills Girl

AVON, Ill., June 14 (AP)—Kenneth Luper, 26, took a practice swing with a golf club and accidentally struck and killed his 4-year-old daughter—Laurie Jean.

Coroner Frank Jacobs today said at an inquest that Laurie darted in front of her father last night and was struck in the neck.

Dulles Secretly Briefs U.S. Military Leaders

QUANTICO, Va., June 14 (AP)—The country's military leaders received from Secretary of State Dulles today a secret briefing which appeared to give them plenty of food for thought.

For more than an hour, Dulles made an address which Defense Secretary Wilson called a "very frank review and discussion" of international affairs and their relationship to diplomacy and military affairs.

Wilson, in talking briefly to reporters at the end of the first day of business sessions in the annual defense officials' get-together at this big Marine base, declined to explain further the tenor of Dulles' remarks.

But the State Department chief came here at a time when discussion of possible disarmament methods is under way in London, including a new Soviet plan for suspending nuclear weapons tests.

Disarmament, in any form or any degree, would mean far-reaching changes in military policy and planning. It could portend reductions in manpower and in production of weapons.

However, changes in the size and composition of the armed forces may come even without any agreement on cutting down armament. Spiraling costs and dwindling budget money may compel a further reduction of manpower, with a "stretch-out" in procurement of equipment. Wilson has indicated to reporters.

Hoffa Trial Set Monday By U.S. Judge

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—U. S. Dist. Judge Burnita S. Matthews ruled today that Teamster Union Vice President James R. Hoffa must go on trial Monday on a conspiracy-bribery indictment.

Judge Matthews rejected motions seeking to delay the trial of Hoffa and a codefendant, Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney.

At one point, Judge Matthews agreed to continue the trial until July 15, but she changed her mind and refused any continuance whatever when an associate attorney said Hoffa's chief lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, might not be available at that time.

Judge Matthews said the new motion seeking a continuance of the trial contained no new matter. She denied all defense contentions.

The arguments on whether the trial should be continued brought bitter exchanges between the government's chief prosecutor, Asst. U. S. Atty. Edward P. Troxell, and Daniel B. Maher, Fischbach's lawyer. Williams was in New York arguing for a new trial for gambler Frank Costello on income tax evasion charges.

Miss Agnes Neill, a legal associate of Williams, represented Williams. But she said she was not qualified to speak for Hoffa.

Shutting off the long debate, Judge Matthews said: "There is nothing new in this motion for continuance at all. The date has been determined to be June 17."

Hoffa, 44, was arrested March 13 in a hotel lobby and charged with hiring a New York attorney to get a job on the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. His alleged purpose: to get inside information on the probe.

Income Tax Cut Is Again Ruled Out

Humphrey Says Reduction May Be Possible In 1959

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The government's two top money men said today inflationary pressures and the cost of government rule out any early income tax reduction.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, soon to step out of his Cabinet post, said a tax cut now is "absolutely out of the question."

He declared it would be "perfectly idle" to speculate on the future timing of tax reduction, but added that "the weight of the evidence" was in the direction of some time in 1959.

William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, said "the strength of inflationary forces has been and is still formidable."

Welcome Relief

He said that while lower taxes would be a "welcome relief to millions of taxpayers," a tax cut without reducing federal spending would stimulate inflation and possibly eliminate a budget surplus.

"On balance," Martin said, "the situation does not seem to us to reflect a basic weakening—of the present active economy—that would call for relaxation in efforts to curb inflationary pressures."

Humphrey and Martin were the final witnesses before a Senate-House Economic subcommittee that for the past two weeks has probed the possibilities of tax cutting.

The overwhelming weight of testimony from 33 private economists and businessmen, as well as top federal officials, has been against tax reduction until the rise in government spending is reversed.

Chairman Mills (D-Ark.), a ranking member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, has made no effort to disguise his agreement, although Speaker Rayburn of Texas has called for a tax-cutting bill next session retroactive to Jan. 1, 1958.

Fixes Policies

Martin, whose Federal Reserve Board fixes money policies, told the subcommittee that the primary threat to the national economy since World War II has not been idle machines and workers "but too much money."

"Almost everywhere in the world, pressure on resources has been intense," he said.

"The necessity of preventing competing claims for scarce resources from resulting in general price increases has been a major problem," he said.

Humphrey said he knew of no plans by the administration to propose tax reduction to Congress next year.

"Lover" Mills Caught Again

LOS ANGELES, June 14 (AP)—Police said today that a man who masqueraded as Brig. Gen. Frankling Mills has turned out to be Frank (The Lover) Mills, a man married more times than he can remember.

Detective C. B. Clark said Mills was seized at the home of his most recent wife and booked on a warrant charging grand theft of a previous wife's money.

Clark said the 60-year-old Mills, who has dyed his hair red, has been the "marrying kind" since 1933 and is "the greatest marriage bunco man in the country."

The detective said Mills has posed on numerous occasions as a doctor in the Army or the Army reserve and has borrowed money from his wives after telling them his funds are all tied up.

The warrant on which Mills was arrested yesterday was signed by Sarah Schultz of Los Angeles, who said she married Mills in November 1956. She complained he left her the following month, with $600 of her money, telling her he had been given overseas duty and would be gone for 10 weeks.

Clark said Mills' current wife, Virginia Dean Mills of Los Angeles, reported that she had loaned Mills $3,000.

Clark said Mills has operated in many parts of the country and has served prison terms at Joliet, Ill., for bigamy and grand theft; at McNeil Island, for impersonating an officer; at Folsom in California, for grand theft and bad check convictions; and at San Luis Obispo, Calif., for parole violation.

Soviet Offers To Let West Inspectors Go Into Russia

Hydrogen Bomb Tests Must End Zorin Tells UN

LONDON, June 14 (AP)—Russia offered today to admit Western inspectors into the Soviet Union provided agreement is reached on ending hydrogen bomb tests.

Western quarters termed the Soviet offer a milestone in disarmament negotiations. It was made by Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin in the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee.

Zorin suggested a two- or three-year moratorium on nuclear tests be declared immediately while a plan is worked out to abolish them permanently.

The moratorium would be enforced by an international commission under the United Nations.

Inspection Posts

The commission would have inspection posts, with scientific detection equipment, in the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and in the Pacific where some U. S. and British tests are conducted.

Until today Zorin had firmly resisted Western demands that any agreement to end nuclear tests be backed up by inspection and enforcement.

Russia had maintained the experiments could be ended by simple agreement among the H-bomb nations, Britain, Russia and the United States.

The change in the Russian attitude was indicated by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev at a news conference in Helsinki yesterday. Khrushchev said the Soviet Union would agree to allow international inspection in the three H-bomb nations if that would help to ban nuclear tests.

Western sources said that while Russia's agreement to admit inspectors represented a major step forward in disarmament negotiations, many other details must be cleared up before its full significance can be judged.

Jules Moch, French representative on the Disarmament subcommittee, told Zorin that simply ending tests would not halt production of hydrogen bombs.

The Western position has been that scientific knowledge acquired from past tests could permit the H-bomb race to continue unchecked even if tests are halted.

Must Include Ban

The Western Powers have insisted that any agreement on ending bomb tests also include a ban on production of nuclear weapons or fissionable materials.

They have demanded that inspection and enforcement apply not only to test explosions but to the production of fissionable materials.

U. S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen asked Zorin whether his proposal represented a change in Soviet thinking on the ending of fissionable materials production.

Zorin did not reply immediately.

Hope Fades In Slaying

DETROIT, June 14 (AP)—Weary police saw hopes for a quick solution to the savage rape-slaying of 6-year-old Mary de Caussin apparently fade today as tip after tip turned up nothing and suspect after suspect was cleared.

Officers said they planned to continue questioning several men about the brutal slaying but admitted they had little to go on.

They said the car of one of the men under questioning was found smeared with blood and that his face was bruised.

Ecorse Township Police Chief Bentley Galloway said the man contended he had been hurt in a barroom brawl, and that this story was "substantiated to a point."

Police of a dozen area communities are assisting Galloway's men in their search for the deviate who raped the little girl and left her body in a small woods two miles from her Ecorse Township home where it was discovered yesterday. The child's throat had been cut and her skull crushed.

National China To Try 41 For Part In Riots

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 14 (AP)—Nationalist China's government announced today 41 persons will be tried by courts-martial for complicity in Black Friday's rioting.

A detailed 20,000-word report on the anti-American outbreak of May 24, issued by Premier O. K. Yui, said five of the 41 persons indicted were found to have past Communist connections, but "no planned or organized effort" behind the riots could be detected.

The outbreak was an "entirely unorganized and unplanned mob action" brought on by resentment at a U. S. court-martial's acquittal of Sgt. Robert G. Reynolds of Colorado, Md., the report said. Reynolds shot and killed a Chinese named Liu Tse-jan last March.

Reynolds said the Chinese was peeping into his wife's bathroom.

The report continued: Investigation by the Taipei District Court found Reynold's claim that he fired in self-defense "could not be established." Judging by the powder burns, Reynolds fired two shots at "close range, not exceeding 30 centimeters—about a foot." Reynolds, at his court-martial, testified he fired the first shot at point-blank range and the second from a distance of from 12 to 15 feet.

One person facing court-martial is Lu Po-chien, 37, of the south China province of Kwangtung, described as a petty merchant. Lu, who tore up an American flag at the U. S. Embassy, was said to have been bribed in 1949 by a Chinese journalist working with a foreign news agency. The journalist was said to have been a spy employed by the Russian intelligence network.

Another facing trial is Chen Cheng-chin, 32, a real estate broker who comes from the central China city of Hankow. As a self-appointed mob leader, Cheng demanded that seven foreigners under police protection be handed over to the crowd.

Humphrey Financial Statement Missing

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) told the Senate today a statement of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's financial holdings "is missing" from Senate Finance Committee files.

The statement "must be restored and brought up to date," he said, as a part of the committee's hearings on the Eisenhower administration's fiscal and monetary policies, due to begin next Tuesday with Humphrey as the first witness.

Gore said he did not "question the integrity or personal honesty" of Humphrey.

85-Year Old Man Visits Daughter, Pays $125 To Taxi

AKRON, Ohio, June 14 (AP)—Mrs. Mabel Syfers was surprised when her 85-year-old father, whom she hadn't seen for 10 years, drove up in a cab yesterday.

She was more surprised to learn he paid the cabbie $125 for the 700-mile trip from his home in Knob Lick, Mo., about 80 miles from St. Louis.

"Get this cab driver some breakfast and a bed," said her father, Lawrence Page. "He's got to get back to Knob Lick."

The cabbie, Tommy Sands, started back after a rest.

Page plans to stay in Akron awhile, visiting Mrs. Syfers and two other daughters. Mrs. Grace Chrysler of Akron and Mrs. Eva Mackey of nearby Tallmadge.

CTU And AP Are Agreed

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—The Associated Press and the Commercial Telegraphers Union reached agreement today on a new contract.

The settlement was announced after 14 hours of continuous negotiations conducted by Walter A. Maggillo of the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service.

CTU members operate and maintain teletype and wirephoto equipment in the offices of The Associated Press, worldwide news cooperative. Approximately 650 employees are in the union. The contract with the union expired Monday and had been extended twice to last midnight.

The agreement provides for a one-year contract with a money package averaging $4.62 weekly per employee. Other contract provisions were agreed upon previously.

Harry S. Liembach, general chairman of the AP Division 14 of the CTU, said "although the members had authorized a strike, a union committee agreed to the settlement in the interest of continued good labor relations with The Associated Press."

He said the settlement was subject to ratification by union members.

"Rebel" Union Members Seek Senate Probe

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—A group of "rebel" members of the United Steelworkers Union today urged the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee to look into activities of their union leaders.

In a conference with Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) and Sen. Mundt (R-SD), more than a dozen union members from many parts of the country told stories of telephone threats, rocks hurled at a home, rigged elections, and of their doubts about how union funds are used.

Donald Rarick, McKeesport, Pa., who lost in his Feb. 12 election race against David J. McDonnell for international president, headed the group of visitors. All are members of a self-styled dues protest committee.

"We must have an investigation," Rarick told newsmen after his meeting with the senators. "That is the only way these things can be cleared up since we can't go to the courts to get the union books opened up."

No promise of a full investigation was given but McClellan said the committee definitely will look further into the union members' complaints.

Tornado Hits Ill. Capital, 2 Killed, 50 Hurt In Storm

[By The Associated Press]

A tornado hidden in a pounding rain and electrical storm chopped through a section of Springfield, the Illinois state capital, Friday, killing two women, injuring 40 to 50 and destroying more than 20 homes.

The Weather Bureau at Springfield said reports of damage in south and east sections of the city indicated the storm was a twister. The bureau said the funnel cloud was not sighted but apparently was shrouded in the heavy rain that accompanied the storm.

The powerful winds and driving rains also hit other Illinois cities.

The Weather Bureau said the turbulence was part of a chain of thunderstorms crossing the mid-Mississippi Valley.

Springfield's city police identified two women killed, one by a fallen power line, the other crushed under a house.

Earlier, the winds and rain pounded Jacksonville, 35 miles west of Springfield. More than 20

House Beats Back Trial Amendment

Juries In Contempt Cases Change Voted Down By 199 To 167

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Northern Democrats and Republicans teamed up in an important victory for President Eisenhower's civil rights bill today, smashing back an attempt to require jury trials in contempt cases.

The House vote on the key jury trial amendment was 199-167.

A score of Negroes looked on from uncrowded galleries during the count, which was conducted by tellers.

With that out of the way, the bill was well on the way to a ballot on final passage. But with an eye on ranks thinned by weekend departures, the leadership put that vote off until Monday.

Battle All But Ended

The battle all but ended today when Southerners, with a few outside recruits, failed to put across the amendment to make a jury trial mandatory for anybody accused of violating an injunction designed to enforce voting or other civil rights.

Members from Dixie contended civil rights can be enforced adequately under present law. They argued that the amendment merely would guarantee another basic right of Americans and make a bit more palatable what Rep. Conley (D-N.C.) called "a dastardly measure" that was "conceived in putrid politics."

Supporters of the legislation said the jury trial amendment would have destroyed the bill's effectiveness in the South.

A Negro member, Rep. Powell (D-N.Y.), told the House: "When American citizens are faced with juries in the Southern section of the United States we know that a colored citizen cannot get equal justice."

Accusing enemies of the bill of "hypocrisy and dishonesty," Powell said that "a minority in this country has made up its mind that under no circumstance is it going to allow colored citizens the right to vote."

Keeney Is Tapped

For strategy and vote getting purposes, backers of the amendment tapped a freshman Republican from the North, Rep. Russell W. Keeney of Illinois, to bring it before the House.

A former state's attorney and county and circuit judge, Keeney told the House that as the bill stood the United States would serve as plaintiff, prosecutor and judge of a person accused of depriving others of civil rights.

Joining with Keeney, Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) said that "I don't propose to go and criticize any other section of the United States as being lawless." Hoffman said there is murder after murder in New York and New Jersey and the "record is full of beatings and murders that have gone unpunished in Chicago."

Two Imprisoned Missionaries Freed By Reds

HONG KONG, June 14 (AP)—Communist China released two California missionaries today upon expiration of prison sentences. Both Jesuits, they had been held four years in jail and under house detention.

The release of the Rev. Charles J. McCarthy, 45, of San Francisco, and the Rev. John Alexander Houle, 42, of Glendale, left six Americans still held. Three are under house arrest in Shanghai and three others are believed imprisoned in the Peiping-Tientsin area.

Six years ago the number of Americans held totaled 55.

Father McCarthy said by telephone from Shanghai that both he and Father Houle are in fair health. Father Houle is suffering from a back ailment, but "is in much better health than before." Father McCarthy declined to talk about how the Reds treated them, saying "we are still in Shanghai and would rather not say too much."

Father McCarthy, speaking in a faltering voice, said "We are very happy to be free again." He wanted to tell friends and relatives "how much we appreciate all their thoughts, all their prayers and their sacrifices."

Mrs. John Houle said in Glendale that her son knew in advance that his release was pending and that a recent letter said he was looking forward "to meeting again with all his loved ones."

Alex McCarthy, a brother of Father McCarthy, said in San Francisco the family was overjoyed at the news. He said Father McCarthy had never spoken of mistreatment in a steady flow of letters received from him.

The two priests plan to come to Hong Kong in about 10 days. The other priests, the Rev. John P. Wagner of Pittsburgh and the Rev. Joseph P. McCormack of Ossining, N. Y., and Hugh F. Redmond of Yonkers, N. Y., a businessman, are still under house arrest in Shanghai, Father McCarthy said.

The two priests are expected to be the next Americans released since they have served four years of five-year terms. Redmond is under a life sentence. The charge against them is the usual accusation of "counterrevolutionary activities and spying."

The other Americans held are Robert E. McCann of Altadena, Calif., under a 15-year sentence; John T. Downey of New Britain, Conn., and Richard G. Fectau of Lynn, Mass. The last two are U.S. Army civilian employees under the sentences of life and 20 years, respectively.

Release of imprisoned Americans has been the major subject of virtually the only diplomatic contact between Red China and the United States — the prolonged talks held in Switzerland since August 1955.

NLRB Refuses To Halt Election

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today rejected a request by District 50 of the United Mine Workers that it cancel a union representation election being conducted today among tugboat employees of Baltimore.

The catch-all unit of the mine workers, headed by A. D. Lewis, brother of John L. Lewis, has been campaigning for designation as bargaining representative of the tugboat workers.

But the NLRB said today that District 50's request could only be rejected, since the union has failed to comply with the non-Communist affidavit and financial reporting requirements of the Taft-Hartley Act. Such failure deprives a union of NLRB services.

The election ballots therefore gave the tugboat men the choice of voting for the AFL-CIO Seafarers International Union or no union.

Catholic Paper Hits Bishop Oxnam's Speech

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The Newspaper of the Washington Roman Catholic Diocese today described as "a flagrant contradiction of . . . history" remarks by Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam about the Georgetown University Foreign Service School.

In a speech here Sunday, Bishop Oxnam had said of the Georgetown school: "It is natural, perhaps even proper, that students trained by Jesuits in a Jesuit institution should graduate conditioned favorably to Vatican world policy."

He made the statements in commenting on the plans in American University, a Protestant institution supported largely by Methodists, to establish a new school of international service.

Saying there are twice as many Protestants as Catholics in the country, the bishop said, "It is proper that a school under Protestant auspices should be established where, in the atmosphere of freedom that characterizes the Protestant campus, future servants of government, business, labor and the church may be trained."

Bishop Oxnam also said that it is "not anti-Catholic to stress the fact that the Roman Catholic Church does not believe in religious liberty."

The Catholic Standard, Washington Diocese newspaper, commented in an editorial:

"The statement and its implications are a flagrant contradiction of the history of Georgetown and the Catholic Church in this country, particularly in this area."

"The Catholics of Maryland, together with the other Catholics in this country, are proud of their courageous and prudent contributions to the cause of religious liberty in concert with their Protestant neighbors."

Saying that a tradition of religious freedom had been "maintained and enlarged by successive generations of Catholics" since they settled in Maryland and elsewhere, the Standard's editorial continued:

"This is our record. Ignorance of the record and foolish allegations to the contrary will not change the record. Nor will they change our continued devotion to the cause of freedom and the development of the spirit of charity and neighborliness that have characterized the relations between Catholics and Protestants here and elsewhere in the United States."

It's time to take a trip. At least 700,000 Americans will be traveling across the Atlantic this summer and a big majority of the total will be women.

Travelers by air require clothes that travel with ease. With a 44-pound baggage allowance for first-class passengers, women have had to achieve the smartest effects possible with the bare essentials.

Hoard Found In Widow's Dreary Flat

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Three weeks ago a frail little widow was found starving to death in her dreary Staten Island flat. Today, it was learned she was worth half a million dollars, $275,000 of it in bills hoarded in her bedroom closet.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Buhl De Hart, was known to have a couple of hundred thousand in banks when she died May 28, of starvation at the age of 90. But relatives were flabbergasted by the additional fortune carelessly crammed into cardboard boxes. The money apparently was made in real estate.

The hoard was expected to add further fuel to an already hot court fight over the estate of the woman called "Miss Emma" by her Staten Island neighbors. Involved in the fight are Mrs. De Hart's only relatives, six nephews and three nieces.

Besides the money in the flat, Mrs. De Hart had more than $200,000 in banks and also owned 740 shares of stock. Thus her total estate came to about half a million.

Her sizeable wealth apparently had gone untouched while Mrs. De Hart lived on 15-cent hotdogs and saved boxes and wrappings for her pot-bellied stove so she could save on bills for her gas and electric heaters.

Her six-room flat above a store was dusty and its windows curtainless.

Eight years ago four of the six rooms were ravaged by fire. Mrs. De Hart never made repairs. Instead, she moved into the two undamaged rooms and let the fire-blackened ones deteriorate.

Mrs. De Hart once operated candy and stationery stores on Staten Island. She also built a movie theater which she later sold.

Much of her wealth also came from real estate. She owned considerable property along one of the island's main business streets.

Mrs. De Hart was widowed 11 years ago by the death of her husband, Samuel, who owned and operated two tugboats.

It was her habit in her later years to arise about noon and go to a nearby dime store for a hot dog or hamburger. Then she returned to turn herself on a chair outside her flat or listen to a radio inside until her 7:30 p.m. bedtime.

A businessman in the neighborhood missed the little woman May 23 and a policeman broke down her door to find her near death. She was taken to a hospital where she died five days later.

On June 6, Frank B. Knowlton, a nephew of Oakland, Calif., petitioned in Staten Island Surrogate's Court for the right to administer the money Mrs. De Hart was known to have in banks. He estimated her total fortune at not more than $300,000.

This touched off a court fight between two factions of relatives.

Jail Inmates Get Liquor

HAGERSTOWN, June 14 (AP)—Stories of Washington County jail prisoners being furnished liquor—one of them having disappeared for a time after a bout with a bottle—brought a threat of legal action today from Deputy States Attorney Warren Stultz.

Non-prisoners have furnished wine and whiskey to prisoners on work details away from the jail.

In one case, Stultz was told a prisoner became so intoxicated he disappeared for several hours and later called the sheriff's office to come and get him.

Deputies complained such action is an impediment to supervision.

Stultz said he could find nothing specific in the Maryland code concerning such practices.

He said the next instance of a person caught furnishing liquor to prisoners will result in a charge of obstruction of justice.

Greyhaired Man Caught After Bank Holdup

BALTIMORE, June 14 (AP)—A suburban branch bank was robbed a few minutes before noon today by a greyhaired bandit. Within an hour, a man had been picked up and police said they found a pistol and $8,410 on him.

The same bank—the Westport branch of the Union Trust Co.—was robbed two weeks ago. Police said the man they had in custody answered the description of the earlier bandit, and the bank manager said he thought he was the same man.

Police identified the man under arrest as James DeMichael, 46, and said he apparently was homeless. A robbery warrant naming DeMichael was sworn out.

Police Commissioner James M. Hepron, who actively participated in the immediate search, said:

"We have the man wanted in this bank holdup and we have recovered the money."

Witnesses gave this description: A man about 50 with grey hair walked into the bank and told the dozen or so customers and employees:

"This is it. Go into the back room."

As he shepherd them toward a rear office, he thrust a bag toward a teller and said, "Fill it up, honey."

The teller, Jean Sulewski, emptied her cash into the bag and handed it back to the man. He turned and ran out the door and disappeared into some woods near the bank.

Police immediately converged on the scene. An FBI agent happened to be in the area and was one of the first to take after the bandit.

It was a tip from a paint mixer at a paint company, nearby that resulted in the arrest of the man being held.

A Charles Stader saw a man with a blood-stained face duck out of the brush near the plant, a few blocks from the bank, but thought little of it.

A few minutes later, however, police burst into the plant and asked if anyone had seen a man with a bag in the area. Stader told them about the man, and they took off in that direction.

The arrest of the man came within minutes. Police took him to headquarters for questioning and to count the money they found on him.

The holdup two weeks ago netted the bandit more than $12,000.

Jail Inmates Get Liquor

HAGERSTOWN, June 14 (AP)—Stories of Washington County jail prisoners being furnished liquor—one of them having disappeared for a time after a bout with a bottle—brought a threat of legal action today from Deputy States Attorney Warren Stultz.

Non-prisoners have furnished wine and whiskey to prisoners on work details away from the jail.

In one case, Stultz was told a prisoner became so intoxicated he disappeared for several hours and later called the sheriff's office to come and get him.

Deputies complained such action is an impediment to supervision.

Stultz said he could find nothing specific in the Maryland code concerning such practices.

He said the next instance of a person caught furnishing liquor to prisoners will result in a charge of obstruction of justice.

They closed by saying they had originally planned their trip over the turnpike but took the scenic Route 40 and were thankful that they did because if the trouble had occurred on an open stretch of the turnpike they may have had more trouble.

WEDDING DAY

"With this ring I thee wed."

Our marriage is beginning where a marriage should begin—in Church. Our hands meet across the Bible. My eyes fall to the printed page, and the verse I see there is so appropriate that I catch my breath in awe and amazement.

Here is the story of a king who long ago sought for a virtuous woman and was told that her price would be far above rubies. Here are detailed the qualities that a truly virtuous woman would have—faithfulness, industry, thrift, compassion, courage, strength, honor.

As I look up at my new husband, I feel a surge of humility. I make a silent pledge that these words in Proverbs will be my guide as his wife. They're a challenge, I know. A big challenge! But, with the help of the Church, I'm going to try to live up to them.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Webster Seeks Allotment Of School Funds

Superintendent of Schools, Ralph R. Webster yesterday requested the Allegany County Commissioners for the final allotment of funds for operation of the school system.

A total of $172,119.10 is the amount and the Board of Education will use the money to make up the final payroll for this school year.

Webster informed the board that after the payroll is met a balance of $10,000 will be on hand. This sum had been included in the budget last year to pay for the Board of Education's purchase of a site in South View Addition of Cumberland for a school. This project did not materialize as the City of Cumberland had been planning to use a large section of land adjacent to the proposed school site for a recreation area.

The will of Henry L. Daugherty, city, who died June 9, names his widow, Mrs. Frances E. Daugherty, 225 North Lee Street, as executrix and beneficiary.

The will of Mrs. Mary Ellen Gordon, who died December 17, 1955, was also probated. Her son, Martin M. Gordon, Flintstone, was named executor of the estate and posted $1,500 bond. The will lists Martin M. Gordon, the husband, as beneficiary.

Rewards, Burdens Must Be Shared

In suggesting that the engineering profession may be facing its "brightest opportunity" in the economic challenge of present inflationary trends, Granville M. Read, chief engineer of the DuPont Company, undoubtedly reflects a characteristic personal and professional attitude. It is an attitude that in large part accounts for his career—and his recent selection as the nation's outstanding engineer of the year. Accepting that award from the National Society of Professional Engineers at Dallas, the man who was engineer for the nation's first H-bomb plant said that now more than ever there is a need for engineering skills. He saw management turning to engineering "not only for those services now being rendered but for new ways in which the engineer can be of help."

Read spoke of productivity that has failed to keep pace with rising labor costs, of the resulting gradual and persistent rise in prices, and of the substantial decline since 1948 in return on capital investment. He said that only through improved technology can industry combat present inflationary trends. This willingness on Read's part to assume for the profession he represents the current challenge of America's economy unquestionably is based upon his knowledge of engineering's accomplishments. Certainly the engineers deserve much credit for the present roles played by the automobile, aircraft, and electrical industries.

But the challenge is one that others must share. Engineering's accomplishments cannot check inflation if the improved productivity it brings about is promptly offset by higher labor costs, price rises and increased taxes. The answer will not come about until capital, labor and management work as a team instead of as rivals for the rewards of their joint efforts.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Extraterritoriality

The Girard case involves extraterritoriality, a very tricky and touchy subject. There was a time, after the opening of Japan by Commodore Perry (1853), that many foreign nations enjoyed extraterritoriality on Japanese soil and the Japanese struggled valiantly to get rid of the system by which foreigners governed themselves while living in Japan. As late as when I came to Japan in 1920, in cities such as Yokohama, Kobe and Osaka there were memories of those days.

Extraterritoriality returned with the conquest of Japan by General Douglas MacArthur but soon ended so far as foreign civilians are concerned. The American Army of Occupation became an army to assist the Japanese to withstand Russian aggression and is now stationed there for that purpose. To avoid giving the impression of being an army of even partial occupation, the Status of Forces Treaty was applied in Japan. This treaty is wrong from every standpoint because it imperils the liberty and life of every American soldier stationed abroad in a country where the treaty applies. It is a badly conceived and badly written treaty and can only produce a constantly lowering morale in our armed services.

There is no use for a Washington official saying that the foreign courts are better than ours or more lenient. That is not the issue at all. If an American soldier, in uniform, serving his country abroad, has violated regulations he is entitled to a court-martial by his own service and no substitute will do. An American is to be tried by his peers, which in the original connotation meant equals. As far as Japan is concerned, its administration of the law is so different from anything an American knows and understands, that no matter how lenient the courts may be, the American soldier will not know what is happening to him. Besides, how much Japanese does Girard know? Can he understand what goes on in a Japanese court?

It has now been clearly established that Girard's constitutional rights have been sacrificed in order not to displease the leftist elements in Japan and other Asiatic countries who might kick up a row if this American soldier's constitutional rights were preserved.

Are we to sacrifice American lives to the agitation of the left wing elements?

Who in the government of the United States has the authority under the Constitution to deprive an American citizen of his rights as stated in the Constitution? Actually no one can do that. The President of the United States has no such authority; the Secretary of Defense has no such authority. If a soldier may be deprived of his constitutional rights because it serves the momentary politics of the State Department, why may not this newspaper be shut down for calling Khrushchev a bum, or why may not Billy Graham be arrested for preaching his particular dogma of Christianity?

These are not far-fetched examples. Actually when the Constitution is pushed aside to suit a temporary policy, it can be pushed aside for anything or for everything. Girard did not violate the Status of Forces Treaty. He could not have violated it because he was on a military task at the moment and the treaty applies only to military personnel when they are off duty. Neither the government of the United States nor the government of Japan has any authority under any treaty or law to place his liberty or life in jeopardy, no matter how much each government may benefit by so doing.

When governments become law-breakers, they are no different from other law-breakers. They should be condemned by decent people. The reaction of the American people to this outrage is totally on Girard's side. No propaganda and no lies will change that. When American life becomes so cheap that a few politicians and bureaucrats in Washington can throw it to the dogs of political expediency, the American people will speak up—and sharply.

It is like that Khrushchev broadcast which made such a good impression at first, but now many Americans realize that we were had and that a brilliant propaganda was done against the United States and that great harm is being done to our country. Americans will not be silent about that either. Moral indignation over the subordination not only of individual Americans but the United States to myopic policy is growing every day.

A Careful Peek Through The Nuclear Fog

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON.

Now that the scientists have had their say about the radiation effects of nuclear weapons tests, the confusion is worse than it ever was. Some people have been led to believe that the tests will give everybody bone cancer, or that the next generation will consist largely of monsters. Others have been led to believe that anyone who talks about the dangers of nuclear radiation is spreading Communist propaganda.

One reason why the confusion is worse than ever is the simple fact that the scientists themselves do not really know what the ultimate effects of the monstrous weapons they have created may be. As last week's Senate hearings proceeded, that became rather frighteningly clear. "We do not yet understand," a scientist would say, or "it is not now possible to reach a firm conclusion," or "the data are insufficient."

The scientists, in short, are groping in a great nuclear fog, like all the rest of us, and they see different shapes in the fog. But there were at least three basic facts on which all, or almost all, the scientists seem to agree, though they put very different interpretations on the meaning of these facts. The three areas of agreement may be summarized as follows.

First, if anyone is worrying about how controlled, peacetime testing of nuclear weapons may affect his own health, he can stop worrying. As a statistical matter, there is hardly more chance that the reader of this report, or any living individual, will be hurt by peacetime testing than that he will be, say, bitten by a camel or clubbed to death in a gondola.

Some scientists, to be sure, do believe that the increase in global radiation resulting from the tests may increase the total number of people in the world who will die of bone cancer or leukemia. But even the most alarmist scientists agree that the number who may be so affected, as a proportion of the total global population, is tiny—so tiny as to be negligible, in statistical, if not in human, terms.

Second, all the scientists agree—even the most conservative, like Dr. Willard Libby of the Atomic Energy Commission—that there is some danger that some mutations in the genes will result from the increase in the global radiation level. This means that some babies of the future will be still-born, or born disfigured.

How great is this danger? Here the nuclear fog settles thickly in. But the answer again depends in part on whether you consider the danger in statistical or human terms. One reputable scientist, a Nobel Prize winner, warned that "hundreds of thousands, or millions" of future lives will be lost or impaired as a result of the nuclear tests already held. Others maintained that this danger, too, was "negligible."

In statistical terms, it is negligible, since even "hundreds of thousands" of babies-to-be make up a negligible fraction of the tens of millions yet unborn. There is only a very tiny risk that any one individual's descendants will be hurt by controlled peacetime testing. But again, in human terms, even a few thousand babies let alone "millions," is undoubtedly a lot of babies.

Third, virtually all the scientists agreed that there must be some annual limit on the global

Canada May Divert Columbia River Past Northwest U. S. Power Dams

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The new Conservative government of Canada is going to present some real problems for the United States. The first may be the diversion of the Columbia river in Canada so part of it doesn't flow into Washington and Oregon.

The Columbia is the biggest single source of electric power in the Far West, and the Canadians propose to tunnel their portion of this water off through British Columbia to the Pacific Ocean before it gets to the American border.

In ebb seasons this might leave the giant Grand Coulee Dam in Washington looking about as empty as a Mexican bullfighting ring on a Monday morning. In the flood season it wouldn't affect American power from the Columbia. However, it would seriously stunt the development of Northwest power in the future.

There are three reasons for American concern: 1. Under a treaty which we forced on Canada in 1909, each country has "exclusive jurisdiction and control over the use and diversion, whether temporary or permanent, of all water on its side of the line." Thus Canada can divert the Columbia and we can't do a thing in the world about it except howl.

2. The Eisenhower Administration has been so slow about discussing joint plans for control of the Columbia that the Canadians had already appropriated $250,000 to study the diversion tunnel.

3. It was the Liberal government of Premier St. Laurent which softened the Conservative British Columbia Provincial Government from diverting the Columbia. Now the pro-American Liberals are out and the Conservatives are in power.

Part of the problem has been the vigorous opposition of American private utilities to supplying more water power to government dams at Bonneville and Grand Coulee. Built during the Roosevelt Administration, these dams have been fought by the private utilities every inch of the way. The battle is now continuing over Hells Canyon.

Canada and the United States were supposed to get together to regulate the Canadian flow of the Columbia, so as to get more use of the spring floods which hurtle down to the sea when Canadian snows melt in the Rockies. But more water in the Columbia would mean more electricity for government power projects on the Columbia; so the private utilities have used their influence with the Eisenhower Administration to hold back.

This was behind Ike's appointment of ex-Gov. Len Jordan of Idaho to the international joint commission which deals with water regulation between the United States and Canada. Jordan is a staunch opponent of public power and a staunch friend of the private utilities. He has even made speech after speech attacking Bonneville Dam, considered by most people as a great boon to Northwest industry.

"Having him in charge of our negotiations with Canada," comments Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore.), "is like having a mountain lion guard a herd of sheep."

Policy Of Waiting

By Brother Barnabas

With all due respect for the wisdom of "striking while the iron's hot" and "doing it now" much may be said for the policy of waiting, taking plenty of time to think about a matter before deciding.

The result may be that you are saved from doing the thing or saying the word you might afterward have regretted. We have a biblical example in Hebrews 12:16 of Esau who sold his birthright and afterwards discovered his mistake and tried to rectify it but it was too late though he repented with tears.

You buy a car. The contract called for a dollar down and a dollar a week for the rest of your natural life. You didn't need a car. Old Dobbin was still good for many a mile, and Shank's mare could go in all weathers.

But everybody else had a car, the salesman mesmerized you, and you have an improved social status.

Having a "free-wheeler" now you must decide where to go with it, and one day you drive out to visit the wife's cousin twice removed, once by request and the other time by the sheriff.

Under the circumstances your reception is cool, and you head for home, the place where, when you have to go there, they have to take you in.

If you had waited a little, slept over it, you might have discovered that waiting for a bus even would have been a better bargain than having a white elephant on your hands.

Many of the troubles of life result from doing the right thing at the wrong time.

Problems have a way of solving themselves, given time. They are found to be imaginary, and when we come face to face with them they have vanished.

Little Billie was found crying about his little red wagon. He complained to his mother that he would have to give up his bright wagon when he grew up. She said, "Son, when you grow up you can have your red wagon." "That's it," said he, "I'm afraid when I become a man I won't want it."

The psalmist said (116:11) "I said in my haste, all men are liars." If he had taken a little time he might have found that there are multitudes of honest men.

When one is angry his guards are down and he is apt to say foolish things. Then it is better to count ten before you speak, and if very angry, a hundred. Before you have done counting you will have your horses under control.

Man is born to trouble as the

As a result of American dilly-dallying, the Canadian delegate on the international joint commission, Gen. A. G. L. MacNaughton, persuaded Parliament to appropriate $250,000 to study the diversion tunnel to divert Columbia river under part of the Rockies over to the Fraser River, which flows into the Pacific.

This would be a boon to British Columbia industry, now growing by leaps and bounds. It has been demanding more power.

And the Provincial Government of British Columbia, the Social Credit Party which actually is to the right of the newly elected Conservative Party in Ottawa, has been held back heretofore by the Liberal government.

Now the Liberals are out. So, with federal running strong against the U. S. A., a lot of trouble could develop for us on the Columbia.

Canadian Ore Team

The astonishing defeat of Canada's strong man, Trade Minister C. D. Howe, will be a blow to Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. Howe and Humphrey worked hand-in-glove to develop Labrador's iron ore for the U. S.-controlled Iron Ore Co. of Canada.

Humphrey's M. A. Hanna Co. is a co-owner of Iron Ore of Canada, and the C. D. Howe Co. was an engineering consultant to this operation. Howe, himself, has no direct interest in this concern, but members of his family are large stockholders.

Another place where the interests of Howe and Humphrey came together was in Algoma Steel, in which M. A. Hanna has a substantial interest. Howe was trustee of the estate of Sir, James Dunn, a large stockholder in Algoma Steel.

Swelling Of Infant's Breasts Is Harmless

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

"My baby is due in two months and I'm a firm believer in breast feeding. But my mother has discouraged me because she claims when I was 1 week old my breasts were engorged and I had witch's milk. I don't get the connection and wish you would set me straight."

Your mother is perpetuating an old wives' tale. Swelling and fullness of one or both breasts approximately three to four days after birth occurs in many boys and girls. The glands become raised and tense and may get as large as half an English walnut. The yellowish-white fluid that exudes is the "witch's milk" referred to by the mother of our correspondent.

Treatment is unnecessary, as the swelling subsides spontaneously. But in the past the mother often expressed this supposedly harmful material. The resulting injury was followed by abscess formation and destruction of the delicate immature breast tissues. In girls, the damage may be severe enough to prevent nursing in the future. This is the only relationship between breast feeding and witch's milk.

This engorgement is due to hormones, which form in the mother's system to stimulate milk production. Some pass through the blood to the baby and the effects of the hormones are reflected in the swollen breasts of the child. The manifestation is most marked during the second week of life and may persist for several weeks until the influence of the hormones disappears completely.

Swelling and tenderness of one or both breasts may occur in boys or girls just before the onset of puberty. These swellings have been mistaken for tumors but they usually are of glandular origin and are temporary. The physician should be consulted when in doubt even though breast tumors are extremely rare in children.

Other breast anomalies include the absence of a gland on one side. The defect generally results from some developmental abnormality on that side. Now and then there is an extra nipple above or below its normal counterpart. There is no treatment for these queer quirks of nature

Try And Stop Me

Stuart Chase has a neighbor whose garden was ruined last summer because of a scarcity of rain. "We did everything possible to provoke a storm," he complained. "Left out the tennis rackets, washed the car regularly, planned picnics for the weekends and invited guests from a hundred miles away—and would you believe it, in spite of all that, the darn sun went on shining without a cloud in the sky!"

Well-publicized differences of opinion among political party nabobs merely carry on a tradition, especially among Democrats who seem to dote on throwing bricksbats at each other. The famous Mr. Dooley put it this way. "When ye see two men with white neckties go into a street car an' set in opposite corners while one mutters 'traitor' an' th' other hisses 'miscreant,' ye can bet they're two Dimmitycratic leaders thryin' to ruin th' ol' party."

Mitzells Vie In Hill Tests On Kline Farm

John Barton Makes Debut As Promoter Of Ft. Ashby Races

A motorcycle hill climb on the Kline Farm hill near the Cumberland Municipal Airport and automobile races at the Potomac Valley Speedway near Fort Ashby will highlight the Sunday afternoon sports program in the tri-state area.

Seventeen riders have signed up to compete in the first motorcycle hill climb in the tri-state area since 1954, according to Jim Raupach, promoter. The Bi-State Sprockets and the Cumberland Motorcycle Club members along with auxiliary police will assist in the program which will consist of two professional and two amateur events, commencing at 2 p. m.

Braves Belt Phils, 10-2, As Aaron And Spahn Star

Hank Clouts Homer No. 17 With Two On; Warren Notches 7th

PHILADELPHIA, June 14 (AP)—Hank Aaron blasted a three-run homer and Warren Spahn pitched a three-hit, no-run game as the Milwaukee Braves took first possession of the Philadelphia Phillies before a sellout crowd of 29,465 at Connie Mack Stadium.

Aaron's sixth inning swat, his 17th homer, sent the ball high over the right field wall. Spahn gained his seventh win against three losses in effectively hamstringing the Phillies.

A late single by Aaron raised his league-leading RBI count to 49. Milwaukee added insult to injury in the ninth inning. Spahn no mercy, the Braves pummeled the demoralized Phillies with six runs on six hits.

Rip Repulski's sixth home run of the year, coming as an anticlimax to everything in the ninth inning, was Philadelphia's only effective effort.

Cardwell, after blanking the Braves for five innings, came unbacked with two out in the sixth. Johnny Logan singled to center and Eddie Mathews beat out an infield roller to second. Then Aaron, a right-handed hitter, drilled a terrific shot out of the park.

Burkey's walloped the Maple Inn Old Germans at Kennell's Mill by the score of 10-3. Shroyer of Burkey's and Neubiser, Joe Glass and Sammy Glass of Maple Inn collected two hits each. Paul Stair was the winner and Jerry O'Baker the loser.

Williams, Avila Hit Four-Baggers

CLEVELAND, June 14 (AP)—Unable to finish a game in ten starts this season, Mike Garcia went all the way, for the Cleveland Indians tonight as they defeated the Baltimore Orioles 7-2. A three-run homer by Bobby Avila and a solo blast by Dick Williams helped Garcia to his second victory.

Garcia fanned 8, walked 2 and allowed 8 hits in his most effective performance this season.

Williams, traded to the Indians for Jim Busby this afternoon, collected a double and a single in addition to his second-inning homer. Busby failed to hit in five times at bat for the Orioles, flying out to Williams to end the game with a man on in the ninth.

Bill Wight gave up two runs in the six innings he pitched and was the loser. Hector Brown and Art Houtteman also went to the mound for the Orioles.

Billy Goodman, playing his first game as an Oriole after being traded from Boston today, hit a home run in the ninth to score the second Baltimore run.

Gilliam Steals Home In Tenth To Beat Cards

Dodgers Take Third After 2-1 Triumph

BROOKLYN, June 14 (AP)—Junior Gilliam stole home with two out in the 10th inning tonight to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Brooks moved from fourth to third in the National League standings with the triumph, a game behind first place Milwaukee.

Gilliam's dash to the plate came as right-hander Lindy McDaniel went into a bases-loaded windup. The speedy Brook second baseman beat the pitch with a nifty slide into catcher Hal Smith, who was atop the plate.

Don Newcombe was the winner, shutting out the Cards after Ken Boyer's sixth home run with two out in the second inning for his 11th consecutive success over the Redbirds since Aug. 23, 1951. The big right-hander, giving up eight hits and striking out three, now is 5-6 for the season.

The other Dodger run off the Cards' bonus bid came in the sixth on a single by Pee Wee Reese, a walk and Elmer Vao's single to right.

Bobby Morrow, Ira Murchison Tie World Mark

AUSTIN, Tex., June 14 (AP)—Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian and Ira Murchison of Western Michigan tied the world's record for the 100-yard dash tonight when each was credited with 9.3 seconds.

Morrow beat Murchison by about a foot in preliminaries of the NCAA track and field meet.

Murchison led for 80 yards but the Olympic sprint champion finally nipped the tubby Western Michigan star. It was by less than a yard so both were given a 9.3 time.

Ted Kluszewski Leads Redlegs To 5-4 Victory

Garners Four Hits At Polo Grounds

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Big Ted Kluszewski made his comeback from the disabled list official tonight with four consecutive hits in five at-bats, including a two-run homer, as the Cincinnati Redlegs cut their losing streak at four games with a 5-4 victory over the New York Giants.

The Redlegs, who have won only four of their last 13 games, moved from third to second in the National League race, eight points behind Milwaukee.

Big Klu, the Redlegs' 32-year-old muscle guy at first base, banged a double and two singles in addition to his first 1957 home run and scored three times.

It was Klu's fourth hit, a lead off single to center in the eighth inning, that set up the winning run for the Redlegs. An error by Red Schoendienst and a single by Don Hoak brought Klu around for a 5-1 lead.

The Giants then scored three in the eighth, two on Willie Mays' 12th home run, to chase Joe Nuxhall, who had permitted only two hits until then. The first Giant run came on Ozzie Virgil's third homer, with two out in the fourth.

Pop Corn In, Nah Hiss Out Of $100,000 Belmont Stakes

Bold Ruler, Gallant Man Top Choices

Seven Will Start Today; Purse For Winner Is $78,300

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Pop Corn was surprisingly named by the Greentree stable today for tomorrow's $100,000 Belmont Stakes but the field was held to the anticipated seven when Mrs. Jules Schwartz just as surprisingly failed to name Nah Hiss.

Nothing that happened in the entry box could disturb the fact that it's a two-horse race between Bold Ruler and Gallant Man. They are the class of the field in this 89th Belmont-Bold Ruler the Preakness winner and Gallant Man, a colt who might have taken the Kentucky Derby had Willie Shoemaker not misjudged the finish line.

With 10 of the last 11 Belmonts deciding the 3-year-old title, the race will be aired on TV and radio (CBS) from 3:30-4 p.m. EST. Probable post time is 3:47 p.m.

Greentree Enters Pair

Cohoes, winner of the Grand Union Hotel Stakes last summer at Saratoga, had been figured as the sole Greentree color bearer, but trainer John Gaver also added Pop Corn.

Otherwise the lineup remained intact, with Bold Ruler, owned by Wheatley Stable of Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps; the entry of Gallant Man and Bold Nero, from Ralph Lowe's stable; Inside Tract, from the D. & M. stable of Ray DeBrino and Joe Martino; and Lucky Dip, a French-bred colt from Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy stable.

All will pack 126 pounds in the mile and one half. With seven starters the pot will gross $114,350 and the winner will get $78,300.

Bold Ruler, to be ridden by Eddie Arcaro and trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, nosed out Gallant Man in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica in April. But in the Derby at Louisville, Bold Ruler finished fourth, while Gallant Man was nosed out by Calumet's Iron Liege when Shoemaker stood up in the saddle about a sixteenth of a mile from home. Gallant Man skipped the Preakness, but easily won the Peter Pan here two weeks ago.

Bold Ruler Rated 4-5

Odds makers rate Bold Ruler about 4-5, with the Lowe entry 6-5, and Cohoes and Pop Corn next at 8-1.

Coaches Move Up From Richmond

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—There's a future for coaches who take a job as assistant on the football staff of University of Richmond Coach Ed Merrick.

In 1952, Merrick hired Jackie Freeman as his top assistant and that same year Freeman was signed as head coach at nearby William and Mary.

In 1953, Merrick hired Ned McDonald for the assistant's position after McDonald had quit as line coach at Virginia. A few months later, Virginia rehired McDonald as head coach. Last year, Milton Drewer was added to Merrick's staff as line coach after a distinguished high school coaching career. This spring, Drewer went to William and Mary as head coach and athletic director.

Roy McMillan of Cincinnati has led the National League shortstops in double plays the last four seasons.

Patton, Mayer Equal Record With 138s In National Open

Ford, Venturi, Trail By Two Strokes; 36 Hole Windup Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 14 (AP)—Amateur Billy Joe Patton, up to his old tricks again, and Dick Mayer, finishing in a wave of birdies, snatched the halfway lead in the National Open Golf Championship with a record-tying 138 today as age and intense heat took a toll of the "old guard."

Both Patton, the voluble, refreshing lumberman from Morganton, N. C., and Mayer, handsome blond professional from St. Petersburg, Fla., fired 68s over the softened Inverness Club course to add to previous par 70s.

They had a two-stroke edge, going into tomorrow's exhausting 36-hole windup, over Masters champion Doug Ford, whose sub-par march wavered in the finishing holes, and young Ken Venturi of San Francisco. Both had 71s for 140.

Ties Snead, Hogan

The 138 tied the halfway record for the Open championship set by Sam Snead, at Riviera in Los Angeles in 1948 and Ben Hogan at Dallas in 1952.

The Inverness Club course was cut from 6,919 yards to about 6,800 by moving up tees on four holes, and the rain softened greens helped toward the surprising low scoring. Par is 34-36-70.

But pressure took its toll. Both the veteran Jimmy Demaret and ex-PGA champion Chick Harbert, who shared the first round lead with 68s, ran into assorted miseries which threw them—at least temporarily—out of top contention. Demaret, feeling the weight of his 46 years in the sweltering heat and humidity, shot a 73 for 141, tying Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex. Harbert, playing what he called "17 bad holes," skied to a 79 for 147.

Roberto de Vicenzo, the Argentine gaucha from Mexico City, led the foreign contingent at 142, followed by Peter Thomson of Australia, the British Open king, who bogeyed three of the last four holes for a 72 and 143.

1956 Champ Has 146

Also back in the pack were Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the high-strung defending champion, at 146 and poor old hard-luck Sam Snead at 148 after shooting a second straight 74. Julius Boros, the phlegmatic 1952 Open champion who had an opening 69, shot a scrambling 75 for 144.

This is the third time that Patton has become a pest to the professionals in a major tournament. Other scores included:

William C. Campbell, Huntington, W. Va., amateur, 79-77-156
Clarence Doser, Rockville, Md., 72-78-150
Clare Emery, Arlington, Va., 77-83-160
Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., 78-72-150
Bobby Cruickshank, Pittsburgh, 80-75-155.

Fred Haney Says Don Drysdale Threw Deliberately At Logan

Urges Authorities To Ban Beanballs

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney, in a television interview last night, said pitcher Don Drysdale of the Brooklyn Dodgers deliberately threw at Johnny Logan and demanded baseball authorities ban beanballs.

Merian Bailey Cops College Golf Title

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 14 (AP)—Merian Bailey, 19, a sophomore in Northwestern's School of Commerce, stood off a back nine threat to defeat Judy Bell, U. of Arizona junior, 2-up to capture the Women's National Collegiate golf title today.

Miss Bell, 20, a psychology major from Wichita, Kan., erased a three-hole, first-nine deficit in the rain-soaked title match but faltered again on the final five holes. Miss Bailey fired a 39-42-81 over the University of Illinois' par 38-38-76 course. Miss Bell shot 42-42-84.

Appearing with sportscaster Howard Cosell on ABC-TV "Sports Focus", Haney said he was certain that Drysdale threw deliberately at Logan in the second inning of yesterday's game between Milwaukee and Brooklyn. Logan, plunked in the ribs, charged out to the mound and set off a free-for-all that lasted almost 10 minutes. "There's no question about it," Haney said. "Don't let anyone tell you that it was an accident. Heck, this is common practice in baseball. It always happens after the batter hits a home run. The pitcher then aims at the next batter."

"How do you know," Haney was asked? "When you are in baseball as long as I have been, you just know," was the reply. Haney explained he said nothing to Logan when the team entered the clubhouse after the game won by Milwaukee, 8-5. "What could I have said to him," he asked. "I couldn't blame him. He was perfectly right in doing what he did. If I had been the batter I would have punched Drysdale in the nose myself."

Orioles Obtain Billy Goodman From Red Sox

Trade Fornieles, Get Ken Lehman

BALTIMORE, June 14 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles today swapped pitcher Mike Fornieles to the Boston Red Sox for versatile Billy Goodman and then filled the hole on their pitching staff by acquiring Ken Lehman from Brooklyn. The Fornieles-for-Goodman trade was a straight player transaction between the two American League clubs. Lehman, a lefty, was acquired via the waiver route for what was believed to be something more than the $10,000 waiver price.

He has no record with Brooklyn this year, but hasn't given up a run in 7 1-3 innings. In his last National League outing yesterday, he limited the Milwaukee Braves to three hits over 5 1-3 innings. In Fornieles the Orioles gave up a 25-year-old pitcher for Goodman, a lifetime, .300 hitter.

Goodman, 31, used only as a pinch hitter on rare occasions this season, has played the outfield, first, second and third base. Goodman has been with the Sox since they bought him from Atlanta in 1947.

Fornieles, a native of Havana, won four and lost eight games last season while pitching for both the Chicago White Sox and the Orioles.

The Cuban righthander has won two and lost six this year while pitching 57 innings in 15 games. He has a 3.95 earned run average, has walked 17 and struck out 43. He has pitched one complete game.

Baltimore Swaps Dick Williams For Jim Busby

CLEVELAND, June 14 (AP)—Outfielder Jim Busby was traded to the Baltimore Orioles today in exchange for outfielder Dick Williams, the Cleveland Indians announced here.

Williams, batting .189, was used sparingly by the Indians as a centerfield replacement for Roger Maris. Tribe Manager Kerby Farrell kept the speedy Busby on the bench because, Farrell said, he did not have a strong enough throwing arm.

Williams, a 28-year-old six-footer, has played every position for the Orioles except pitcher, catcher and shortstop. He hit .234 for Baltimore this year and has appeared in 47 of the Orioles' 54 games.

Williams Rates With Greats In Longevity And In Hitting

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (AP)—Father Time and Ted Williams must be on friendly terms. Ted refuses to heed the Old Man's call to end his baseball career.

The Splendid Splinter nearly put the Go-Go White Sox on the ropes with three home runs in a single game for the second time of his fabulous career. On May 8, Ted was a one-man team.

The first time Ted hit three homers in a game was July 14, 1946. This display of home run powder marked the creation of the famous Williams' shift by the then Cleveland manager, Lou Boudreau.

Williams apparently is thriving on age. He will be 39 come Aug. 30. He is in top physical condition. He is a picture of his old swinging self with rhythm he showed back in 1941 when his average was .406, the best of his career. He showed .401 for his first 40 games this year.

Despite five years in service—World War II and Korea—he has a record of durability that matches those of many greats of the past.

This is his 14th full season with the Boston Red Sox. Had it not been for two service calls by the Marines he would be playing his 19th year.

So it's only fitting to rate him among such immortals as Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby, Tris Speaker, Babe Ruth, Eddie Collins, Nap Lajoie, Paul Waner and Al Simmons. Ted began 1957 with an overall .348 hitting average.

Cobb compiled a .367 lifetime mark. At 42, the Georgia Peach played his 24th and final season. That was in 1928. He hit .323 in 95 games.

Hornsby, 41 when he left the majors as a player, compiled a .358 lifetime average.

Father Time had to wait until Speaker was 40 before he retired. His lifetime average was .344 for 22 seasons. In 19 seasons he played more than 100 games. At 39 he hit .327 in 141 games for Washington.

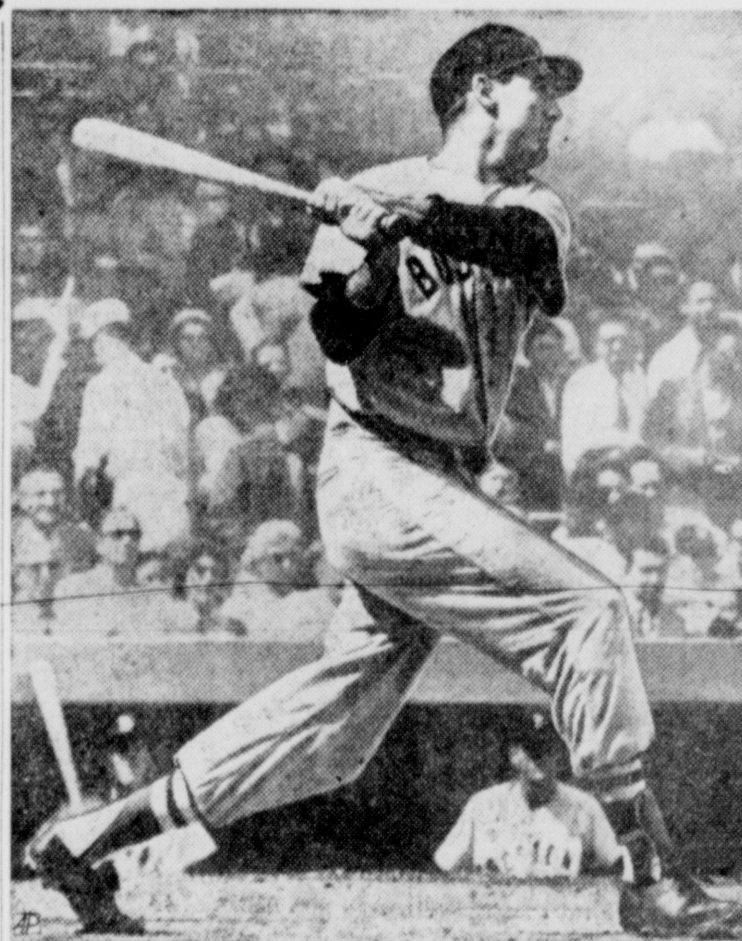

Collins, one of the game's greatest and smartest competitors, was 43 when he called it quits. At 40 he batted a heavy .338 for Philadelphia's Athletics through 95 games. He had a .333 lifetime mark.

Second baseman Lajoie batted .339 lifetime and was 41 when he hung up his glove.

Simmons, with .334, and Waner, with .333, were both 41 when they retired.

Williams and Comiskey Park have had their ups and downs. In 1950 during the All-Star game there, Ted fractured his left elbow in the first inning while making a catch against the left field wall. He played until the ninth, but for the remainder of the season he played only 19 games. The following year was his poorest full season with a batting average of .318.

Ted keeps his batting eye trained with nearly 10 minutes of batting practice in the batting cage before games. His best home run production was 43 in 1948. If he can keep going after his fine spring start Williams figures to beat his own mark for slugging four baggers.

SPORTS GRILL by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 14 (INS)—A sage of the turf once remarked that the only thing certain about racing is its uncertainty.

The old timer may have had in mind something like the fortunes of Mrs. Gene Markey's famed Calumet Stable.

Last winter when her powerful stable was grabbing most of the big money in Florida many said her trio of great three year old colts might sweep the triple crown — the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

Some went so far as to say her color bearers—Gen. Duke, Barbizon and Iron Liege might run one-two-three in the big stakes. But, Gen. Duke and Barbizon were sidelined by injuries and while Iron Liege got a lucky nose decision in the Derby when Willie Shoemaker mistook the finish line and stood up on Gallant Man, Calumet will have no starter in the Belmont tomorrow.

Even if all three were in the Belmont none of them might beat either Joan Phipps' Bold Ruler or Ralph Lowe's unlucky Gallant Man which threaten to make the Belmont a two-horse race although seven are slated to face the starter.

Eddie Arcaro, who has piloted six Belmont winners, is confident that he will win with Bold Ruler. But Willie Shoemaker is equally confident that the Irish-bred Gallant Man, which is on the small side, will take home the major portion of the $100,000 race.

Jockey Willie Hartack, who rode his 22nd stakes victory of the year early this week, and

Calhoun Named Coach At Beall

Tutored Berkeley Teams Since 1946

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va., June 14 (AP)—Gerard Calhoun, head coach at Berkeley Springs High School since 1946, has resigned to accept a coaching job at Beall High School in Frostburg, Md.

Verl W. Snyder, Morgan County school superintendent, said no successor to Calhoun has been chosen.

Calhoun, a letterman at Shepherd College in football, basketball and baseball, coached all three sports and track here. His basketball teams won 112 games and lost 74. In football, his teams won 40 games, lost 36 and tied 1.

Market Pauses For Breath, Dips Mildly After Advance

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—The stock market paused for breath today, dipping mildly, after its run to three straight new highs for 1957 in successive sessions.

Wall Street analysts ascribed the decline to profit-taking combined with the normal pre-week-end caution. They noted that volume tapered off substantially as prices softened, under an indication that the underlying trend is bullish.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 30 cents to $186.10 with the industrials unchanged, the rails down 90 cents and the utilities down 20 cents.

Of 1,164 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 536 to 359. There were 51 new 1957 lows and 39 new highs.

Among the 15 most active stocks eight fell, six rose and one was unchanged.

Olin-Mathieson, also yesterday's most active issue, was the stock in disfavor that the rumors which sent the stock up 4% yesterday were far from the mark. Wall Street was a-buzz yesterday with talk that the firm's subsidiary, E. R. Squibb, had developed a new anti-cancer drug. After the close yesterday Squibb said the drug is "still in its infancy clinically."

Among other losers were Royal Dutch 1, United Aircraft 1 1/4, International Nickel 1 1/4 and Illinois Central 2 1/4, the latter in a continued reaction to a forecast of lower earnings.

Gainers included International Paper 3 1/4, Schering 2 1/4, International Business Machines 4 1/4, Du Pont 1 1/4, Aluminum Ltd. 1 1/4 and Lukens Steel 2 1/4.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were irregularly lower. Declines were posted by Shunk, Hill, Electric Bond & Share, Hill, Oil and A&P.

County Board Airs LaVale Zoning Plan

About 50 Attend
Public Meeting

About 50 residents and property owners in LaVale attended a public meeting conducted at the LaVale Fire Hall last night by the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors for an explanation of the proposed zoning law for Election District 29, which embraces LaVale.

Earl E. Manges, new president of the Board of Election Supervisors, first read through the act of the General Assembly which authorizes creation of the LaVale Zoning District in Election District 29.

Then the floor was thrown open for questions and a number were addressed to Mr. Manges and other officials at the public meeting. Others at the head table with the board president included Victor M. Hebb and Matthew J. Mullaney, other board members; John M. Robb, attorney to the election board, and Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county commissioners.

Not Retroactive

One specific question raised was the effect the zoning measure will have upon existing businesses and industries in LaVale. It was explained that it would have none because a zoning measure cannot be retroactive. Businesses and industries in predominantly residential areas would simply be non-conforming uses.

Another opponent of the bill called it "un-Christian" and "undemocratic." He said a man ought to be able to do with his land what he wanted with regard for his neighbors.

Some 2,300 qualified voters of Election District 29, except those living in the Cresaptown Special Taxing Area, are eligible to vote in the election next Tuesday. The polling place at the LaVale Fire Hall will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. June 18.

The voters will first ballot for or against the zoning district and then will choose three of the six candidates for the LaVale Zoning Board.

The Ballot

The first question will appear on the four voting machines as follows:

"An act to add six new sections to the Code of Public Local Laws of Allegany County (1955 Edition) being Article 1 of the Code of Public Local Laws of Maryland, title 'Allegany County,' said new section to be known as Sections 337-A to 337-F, to follow immediately after Section 337 thereof, and to be under the new sub-title 'LaVale Zoning District' authorizing and empowering the 'LaVale Zoning Board' to adopt a comprehensive plan of zoning rules, regulations and restrictions affecting the erection, extension and use of land and public buildings in part of LaVale, Election District No. 29, and relating generally thereto; and creating the said Board and generally describing its membership, tenure, powers, duties and responsibilities."

Beneath that in a horizontal line will appear the names of the six candidates in alphabetical order. They are Leslie J. Clark, C. Arthur Lancaster, James E. Robertson, John J. Rowan, Charles A. Smith and W. William Yoder. The high man will serve until the November 1962 general election, the second high man until November 1960 and the third high until November 1958. If zoning is defeated, of course, there will be no board.

Bible School Opens Monday

A daily vacation Bible school will open Monday morning for two weeks at First Brethren Church, Fourth and Seymour streets, with a program for parents planned for June 29 at 7:30 p. m. at the church.

Miss Jennie Mae Wigfield, corresponding secretary for the Bible school, said the theme will be "Journeying With Jesus" and classes are arranged for all age groups. Sessions will be held Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. until noon, with refreshments served each day.

Mrs. L. O. McCartney is school director. Mrs. William Leacy is treasurer. Mrs. Harold Stump is secretary and Miss Wigfield is corresponding secretary. Mrs. Jack Williams has charge of music.

She will be assisted in her department by Miss Carol Maiers and Miss Delma Schriver. The nursery department director is Miss Betty June Dively.

The junior department is under the direction of Miss Carol Johnson, while Miss Lois Shanholzt will direct the intermediates.

Mrs. Helen Erer and Mrs. Marjole Kesner are the refreshment committee.

The program of study will include projects, handicraft, games, songs and demonstrations. Flannel-graph and other visual aids will be used in the several departments, and the work of the children, along with a program, will be presented at parent night June 29.

Rehearse For Recital

Miss Patricia Smith, pianist, and Miss Peggy Thompson, trumpeter, are shown here rehearsing for a free public recital to be presented June 20 at 8:15 p. m. in Centre Street Methodist Church Chapel. The two young women are combining their talents to present a program of classical, semi-classical and popular music.

Recital To Be Sponsored By Music And Arts Club

A music recital, sponsored by the Music and Arts Club of Cumberland will be given free to the public June 20 at 8:15 p. m. in Centre Street Methodist Church Chapel.

Featured will be Miss Peggy Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Finley Thompson, Rose Hill Avenue, and her trumpet, accompanied by Patricia Ann Smith, well known local organist and pianist.

Miss Thompson has just finished her freshman year at the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., where she is majoring in public school music and trumpet. She studies trumpet with Sidney Mear, first trumpeter with the Rochester Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra. At Eastman, she is a member of the Eastman Symphony Orchestra and the Symphony Band, as well as treasurer of the Eastman Student Chapter of the Music Educator's National Conference.

While a student at Allegany High School, she played first trumpet with the All Eastern Conference M.E.N.C. Orchestra in Boston, Mass., and trumpet with the National High School M.E.N.C. Orchestra in St. Louis, Mo. She was a member of the Maryland All State Band and Orchestra for four years in high school. She also was a member of the All County Band and Orchestra of Allegany County, appearing as soloist for her four years of high school. She was rated with four successive "superiors" in the Federation of Music Clubs Festival.

During the 1956 concert season here, Miss Thompson appeared as soloist with the Cumberland Civic Symphony and was a regular member of the orchestra for three consecutive years.

During the past summer, Miss Thompson attended the Transylvania Music Camp in Brevard, S. C., where she played first trumpet in the symphony orchestra and in the concert band. She attended this camp three consecutive years.

This summer, Miss Thompson will attend the Fred Waring Youth Workshop for its two-week session beginning the last week in July.

She has studied with Charles and Lenore Gallagher of Washington, as well as with S. Lua Syckes, all of whom have accepted invitations to the recital. Miss Thompson hopes to play professionally and to teach either high school or college music upon graduating from Eastman.

Patricia Smith has been Peggy Thompson's accompanist for the past four years. Miss Smith is well known here as organist at Centre Street Methodist Church and as a pianist for several local dance orchestras.

She is a student of Mrs. Samuel T. Weatherholt, under whose guidance she was awarded two "superior" ratings in the Federation of Music Clubs annual music festivals.

Miss Smith graduated from Allegany High School in the class of 1957, and was accompanist and organist for the school for her entire school career. At graduation, she was awarded the prize for the highest scholastic attainment for her senior year. She also had the lead in the class play, "Girl Crazy," which was presented this spring.

Miss Smith was accompanist for the All County Chorus of Allegany County, under the direction of Dr. Luther Goodheart, of New York University. She also was a member of the All-State Orchestra in Baltimore and a member of the All-County Orchestra and Chorus for three years.

Her portion of the program, in addition to accompanying Miss Thompson, will be several piano selections of both classical and popular vein.

Local 37-B, Operating Engineers, will meet today at 8 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.
